

Code of Conduct | Our Values & Standards

The Basis of Our Success

Our Company

From the beginning, the story of Merck has been guided by the belief to do the right thing. George Merck underscored this defining principle in 1950 when he said, “We try never to forget that medicine is for the people.” As we continue to build on our strong heritage of innovation in our laboratories to create a sustainable positive return on our investment, one thing that will not change is our commitment to unwavering ethics and integrity.

Although we speak many languages and represent many cultures, we are united in our drive to deliver breakthrough medicines with honesty and integrity. Our values and standards are what make us Merck and MSD. They are the basis of our success.

“We try never to forget that medicine is for the people. It is not for the profits. The profits follow, and if we have remembered that, they have never failed to appear.”

— George W. Merck, 1950

Our Patients and Customers

Every day, our products touch lives. We see this as a privilege and work tirelessly to identify the most critical needs of our customers and patients. We devote our resources to meeting those needs and earning their trust every day.

Our Employees

Our employees' knowledge, imagination and skills drive our innovation. As an employer, we strive to create a workplace environment that inspires trust, inclusion, and respect so we can unleash breakthrough thinking and invention.

Our Shareholders

Our shareholders trust us with their hard-earned money. In return, they expect good corporate governance, honest, accurate and timely performance information and clear disclosures in all public reports and communications.

Our Suppliers and Distributors

Without trust, a business relationship is only as strong as the last transaction. We value our suppliers and work to always treat them honestly, fairly and with respect. In turn, we expect them to share values and standards that align with our own.

Our Communities and Society

Our communities are our neighbors, and they trust us to be good corporate citizens. We proudly support an array of social, health and environmental sustainability programs. We comply with all laws, rules and regulations that apply to our business.

Our Values & Standards Unify Us

They represent the very core of our character as a company.
They are what make us a company worthy of trust.
They guide our decisions and actions.

Patients First

We are all accountable for delivering high quality products and services. We aspire to improve the health and wellness of people and animals worldwide, and to expand access to our medicines and vaccines. All of our actions must be measured against our responsibility to those who use or need our products.

Ethics & Integrity

We are committed to the highest standards of ethics and integrity. We are responsible to our customers, to our competitors, to distributors and suppliers, to shareholders, and to the communities we serve worldwide. In discharging our responsibilities, we do not take professional or ethical shortcuts. Our interactions with all segments of society must be transparent and reflect these high standards.

Values Based Decisions

Our Values & Standards and our policies address many common types of workplace situations. But they can't address every possible circumstance, and they are not a substitute for exercising good judgment.

When faced with a challenge, these questions can help you decide what you should do.

Ask yourself...

- » Could my conduct or decision harm anyone or anything?
- » Will my conduct violate the trust of customers, patients, shareholders or other stakeholders?
- » Am I willing to be held accountable for this decision or action if it appears in the media?
- » Do I know for certain that my proposed action is consistent with the letter and spirit of our company policies, as well as applicable laws and regulations?

If you're unsure, speak with your manager, the Office of Ethics, or another Merck resource such as Compliance, Legal, or Human Resources.

Remember, you are Merck.

Protect the reputation we've earned as a company that operates with integrity. Ask questions when you're unsure, and report any conduct that could put our business and reputation at risk.
